News Extends Invitation To Cooking School

There is always something new under the sun.

Entertaining proof of that statement will be presented by The Antioch News, which is bringing to the Antioch Theatre a motion picture that pioneers in fresh, stimulating treatment of the oldest and most important subject in the world—Homemaking.

Long ago the Cooking School graduated from a curiosity to a popular necessity in many parts of the country. Now it has graduated again, leaping this time into Hollywood stardom.

For this is no routine lecture, no methodical demonstration which the Antioch News will give to the women of the community for three days without charge, starting Tuesday, Feb. 22.

The News takes a genuine pride in being among the first to sponsor "The Bride Wakes Up," a full length feature picture, directed and filmed in Hollywood, with a competent cast to interpret the appealing story.

Women, young and old, and men, too, will appreciate the humanness of this romantic screen story, in which home problems have been approached from an entirely new angle. Entertainment, profitable instruction, humor and romance are woven deftly into a production which abounds in ingenious camera studies and remarkable close-ups. The camera has immortalized the Cooking School, magnifying its benefits, losing none of its hospitable, friendly charm.

In fact, there are closeups of a new chocolate layer cake and a lemon chiffon pie that are destined to send the hungry audience hustling home to duplicate the culinary triumphs. Free (continued on page 5)

ANTIOCH'S SALVATION ARMY QUOTA IS SET AT $110 FOR 1938

H. A. Smith Is Local Treasurer for Drive to Start Soon

The annual Salvation Army home service appeal for funds to carry on the program this year of uplift and relief work among the unfortunate in Lake and McHenry counties is now organizing for a simultaneous effort in all points of both counties. The needed Salvation Army work in both counties is now in charge of Captain and Mrs. E. R. Johnson, the Waukegan officers.

The funds given will be used wholly in these counties. No other organized appeal will be made here during 1938. Only as the friends supply the funds can the Salvation Army function among the oppressed and needy.

The headquarters of this appeal are located in the new Waukegan Salvation Army citadel at 111 West Washington Street where the Rev. John M. Linden, the financial field representative of the Illinois Salvation Army division, will again like last year direct this effort.

For this year's appeal the general appeal Chairman is Mr. L. J. Wilfong of the Lake County Circuit Court and the general appeal Treasurer is Mr. James N. Finn of the Waukegan Citizens' National Bank.

Quotas have been assigned for each point in the counties to raise. Antioch's target is for $110.00. The local treasurer is H. A. Smith of the First National Bank. Funds may be left at the bank at any time. All amounts whether large or small will be most gratefully received. The Committee hopes that many here will gladly contribute when the opportunity is given.

AUTO DRIVING ON ICE BANNED AFTER TWO ARE DROWNED

The custom of driving automobiles on the ice of Lake County lakes was placed under the ban this week by the State Conservation department following the drowning last Sunday of two Evanston boys, aged 9 and 6. The lads lost their lives when an automobile in which they were riding broke through the ice in Pistakee Bay and sank in ten feet of water.

Hundreds of fishermen have been in the habit of driving their cars upon the ice-covered lakes while they fished through the ice. Deputy game wardens now will put a stop to the practice because of the danger of treacherous ice.

FOUR PERSONS ARE INJURED HERE IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Mrs. Ernest Krohn Hit by Auto; 3 Hurt in Collision Sunday

Mrs. Ernest Krohn of Silver Lake, Wis., is in the Kenosha hospital suffering from injuries received in a traffic accident here Thursday night at 8:00 o'clock when she was struck by a Ford sedan driven by Harold Edwards, 20, an employee at Maplethorpe's service station.

Mr. and Mrs. Krohn had parked their automobile near the bridge on Main street just north of the M. E. church and were walking to the Crystal theatre when the accident occurred. According to witnesses, the Edwards car was being driven south when Mrs. Krohn was hit and thrown several feet, the car just missing her husband.

Taken to Hospital
Given first aid at the office of Dr. R. D. Williams, the injured woman was taken then to the Kenosha hospital where X-ray revealed that her left leg was broken and her right pelvic bone fractured.

Charges growing out of the accident resulted in a warrant being issued Monday by Assistant State's Attorney J. R. Bills for the arrest of Edwards for driving a car without a license. At the time, according to Bills, there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a charge of reckless driving. Edwards case is to come before Justice of the Peace Harry Hoyt in Waukegan this week.

Three Hurt in Collision
Three young people of this community were severely injured Sunday morning in a collision occurring on Pikeville road just east of Antioch. The injured are Robert Dunn, 25, of Antioch, Miss Doris Fitzgerald, 18, of Pikeville, and Albert Sorenson, 18, who lives with his parents east of Antioch.

Young Dunn was bringing Miss Fitzgerald to St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock when the car driven by Sorenson came over a hill and the icy condition of the road made it impossible to avoid the collision which almost demolished the two cars, and cut and bruised all three occupants of the cars. Dr. W. W. Warner was called to attend the injured. Several stitches were taken to close cuts on Dunn's head, and Miss Fitzgerald also had several deep cuts in her head and ankles and suffered severe body bruises. Young Sorenson had deep cuts on his face and body and he was badly bruised.

Dunn, who has been at home on a month's leave of absence, will return to his duties at the Elgin state hospital Monday.

Miss Fitzgerald, who was first taken to the Dunn home for treatment, was taken to her home at Pikeville Tuesday, and young Sorenson is being cared for at the home of his parents on Pikeville road.

JENKINS AND NELSON SEEK STATE OFFICE

Nelson's Candidacy Recalls Famous Misfeasance "Trial" in '31

Newton Jenkins, three times unsuccessful in seeking the Republican nomination for United States senator, has started a radio campaign for the Democratic nomination. In his opening address Jenkins attacked both major parties for betraying the people and the nation.

Oscar Nelson, former state treasurer, has announced his candidacy for re-election to that office. Nelson, it will be remembered, when he was treasurer in 1931 was tried at Woodstock on charges of misfeasance in office. That trial became a farce when the going got hot and the trial judge, the late Edward D. Shurtleff, ruled that his court had no jurisdiction in the case, but nevertheless directed the jury to return a verdict of "not guilty." That was after the state had spent several thousands of dollars in getting the trial under way.

Miss Evelyn Van Patten of Chicago spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Van Patten. Mr. Van Patten celebrated his 75th birthday Sunday.

LEGION HEADS MOVE TO LAUNCH CHILD WELFARE PROGRAM

Community Meeting to Be Held at High School Saturday Night

A meeting for the purpose of discussing a helpful Child Welfare program for this community has been called to be held at the Antioch Township High school auditorium this Saturday night at 8 o'clock. A bulletin announcing the community-wide meeting was sent out this week by the Child Welfare department of the Antioch American Legion Post, which is receiving the co-operation of the local Legion Auxiliary.

The bulletin which is now in the hands of parents declares that "it is the duty of every citizen of the community to take an active part in promoting the health and welfare of each and every child in this district," and states that the needs of our children are not confined to the mere necessities of food, clothing and shelter. Also carried in the Legion bulletin is a list of questions relating to the welfare of children as propounded by one of America's leading child psychologists, covering almost every phase of juvenile development. It is these salient features of child welfare that the Legion and Auxiliary propose for discussion at the meeting Saturday night, and it is believed that a general get-together will be conducive to a better understanding of children's problems.

Mrs. Paul Chase is chairman of the Child Welfare committee for the Auxiliary, and Dr. A. P. Bratrude serves in a like capacity for the Legion.

All parents and friends of children in this community are invited to attend the meeting.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO PRESENT LECTURER HERE TUESDAY

Frederic Snyder Will Be Heard in "Keeping Ahead of the Headlines"

The Antioch Woman's Club will present to this community one of the most outstanding programs of the year next Tuesday night at the Antioch Township High school auditorium when Frederic Snyder of Chicago will be heard in his popular and unique lecture, "Keeping Ahead of the Headlines."

Frederic Snyder, known as the "verbal editor," brings something novel and new to his audiences. He applies the ability of a skilled journalist in the preparation of his lively and appealing addresses. Each of them is made up quite like a newspaper, including sensational headline facts, an editorial of inspiration, a humorous column and some advertisements urging action. He brings news in the most delightful manner.

New Technique in Journalism
This new and attractive form of address has aided Mr. Snyder in accomplishing an astonishing record for effectiveness on the platform. The press almost universally has acclaimed him as having reached the apex among popular speakers. Few men have traveled more extensively or greeted more audiences in the United States. He is characterized as a vigorous, stimulating speaker; his language is chaste, his manner cultured. In every address he seeks to serve a definite life purpose.

The presentation of Snyder in his unique address is the gift of the Antioch Woman's Club to this community. It is free, and all people of the community are invited to attend. The time is 8 o'clock, at the Antioch high school.

ILLINOIS PWA DROPS NON-CITIZEN WORKERS

In compliance with a provision of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1937, the Illinois Works Progress Administration has dropped 2,255 non-citizens from its rolls to date 1,593, or considerably more than half the total for the state, were released in the Chicago area. WPA issued instructions that the Act be complied with promptly and completely but that no drastic measures be taken immediately against those workers about whose citizenship status there is reasonable doubt.

ANOTHER SIT-DOWN

HON. RICHARD J. LYONS
State Representative
8th Senatorial District
Libertyville, Ill.

LYONS TO MAKE RACE FOR 5TH TERM IN HOUSE

Declares He Owes Duty to District; Will Not Seek Higher Office

State Representative Richard J. Lyons, Libertyville Republican, announced today he will be a candidate again for the position of representative in the General Assembly for the eighth senatorial district, comprising the counties of McHenry, Lake and Boone. His announcement set at rest all speculations as to his possible state candidacy for some other position. He has been mentioned as a possible candidate for United States Senator from Illinois.

In connection with his announcement he will seek re-election as State Representative, Mr. Lyons issued the following statement:

Declines Senate Bid
"I appreciate more than I can tell you the compliment the press and friends from almost every county in Illinois have paid me in suggesting my name for state wide office this year."

"It happens, however, that I choose not to attempt a state race, requiring as it would, vastly heavier obligations than I am capable of discharging. My services, I believe, will be of greater value at Springfield in view of the economic and political condition of our state. My five terms in the house have placed me in a more or less commanding position where I can better promote the interest of my district."

G-Man Lauds Candidate
Rep. Lyons has an enviable record in the house. He has been lauded editorially by the press all over the state for his courageous action on many occasions. His fight to put an end to the political criminal alliances via the parole board has been heard all over the United States.

He spoke on the latter subject in Washington before the World organization of Identification experts and his speech was lauded by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who said: "Rep. Lyons has made a great contribution to law enforcement, he is courageous and does not pull his punches when dealing with Politics and crime."

TWO DROWNED AS AUTO FALLS THROUGH ICE

Oxygen Gives Out on Way to Hospital; Held Inquest Monday

Failure to heed warnings to keep automobiles off the dangerous ice at Pistakee Bay cost the lives of two young boys Sunday when the car in which they were riding crashed through the thin ice into 10 feet of water.

The lost were John Peyton, 6, of 823 Ellenwood avenue, Evanston, and Louis Nelson, 9, of 3039 Kenmore avenue. Four other persons, including the Peyton boy's father, were saved.

Held Inquest Monday

At the inquest conducted Monday by Coroner John L. Taylor at Libertyville, Harold G. Murphy, a student in the Evanston high school, told the story of the tragedy. According to Murphy, the elder Nelson and Howard Peyton had taken their sons and Murphy from LeMoon's Point to the fishing holes out in the lake about 400 feet from shore, riding in the automobile of Floyd Armistead. It was when the car, loaded with the six persons, started to go back to shore for additional fishing poles that the ice started cracking and the car suddenly dropped through the ice. Murphy said he managed to swim out and then tried to rescue the others. Other witnesses came to the scene and after several attempts the young boys were taken out of the sunken automobile.

Rush Oxygen Tanks
All were taken to shore on the Lake county side and Dr. Bruce N. Balding of Elgin was summoned. He administered adrenaline to the boys. Four oxygen tanks were rushed to the scene by the Fox Lake and Antioch fire departments and two more tanks were brought in an ambulance.

The boys were placed in an ambulance and the resuscitation efforts were continued by Dr. Balding, administering oxygen. When the ambulance was about five miles from the hospital the oxygen was exhausted.

Dr. Balding said that he believed that the Peyton boy could have been saved and possibly the Nelson boy too if the oxygen had held out until the supply was replenished at the hospital.

The Half-Mad Cults of Abundance

Writing in Harper's, John T. Flynn, the well known liberal economist declares that the one hope of escape from the business setback, lies in "an attack on the price structure." He advocates the outright repeal of the Robinson-Patman Act and the Miller-Tydings Act, discontinuance of the policy of subsidizing scarcity and artificially boosting the cost of farm products, demobilization of the Commodity Surplus Corporation and its price-pegging policies, and scrapping of all marketing agreements.

He further advocates the stern enforcement of the anti-trust laws and a complete overhaul of our tax system, with especial attention paid to the dangerous undistributed profits tax.

At the present time, the government is planning a war against monopoly. Yet, as everyone knows, for more than five years the government has definitely encouraged monopoly in various fields—and has sometimes, forced it on the country through legislation. Through the destruction of farm crops and the passage of laws outlawing certain low-cost retailing methods, it has, to all intents and purposes, placed an elevator under the price structure. We are reaping the fruits of that policy today—and its name is depression.

If monopolies in restraint of trade actually exist, the government should ferret them out and destroy them. But no matter how effective the work done, it will benefit the public hardly a whit if our national policy promotes laws which make steadily rising prices inevitable, and monopoly unavoidable. We are paying the price now for a deliberately fostered policy of scarcity.

Above all, as Mr. Flynn writes, "there should be an end to the half-mad cults of abundance. The day of the promoters—the destroyers of poverty and the makers of abundance, Republican and Democratic—ought to be closed. . . . It is a very real and sober world of facts that we must now face."

Why Hunt Alibis?

A stranger in our country, reading current, political attacks on American industry, could not be blamed for coming to the conclusion that the executive management of our industries has been not only a dismal failure, but a menace to the nation.

Management of private enterprises in the United States, from hot dog stands to railroads and utilities, has been largely taken over by politicians, who without a blush profess to know more about such industries than do the men who have put their money and their lives into the building up of productive properties.

A great argument has been going on nationally about why the investment market is drying up. Is the question so complex as many claim? Do your own analyzing.

For example, you elected John Jones to Congress. The chances are ten to one that you know John Jones isn't a particularly good business man in his home community, even though he was a good enough politician to get your vote. Would you employ Congressman Jones to invest your personal savings? Would you hire him, because of his outstanding business record, to manage your business? Chances are ten to one you would not. And yet, thousands of John Joneses in high political offices, are today, in effect, usurping practically every phase of operation and management of American industry, even though they have had no experience with the industries they presume to manage, and do not assume any financial or tax responsibility.

Is it possible that such "political management" of industry has anything to do with the reticence of Mr. Joe Citizen to invest his money?

Possibly the American investor has become fearful of political tinkering with business. Possibly this simple reasoning has something to do with "the general feeling" of fear which blocks investments for expansion of industry under a trend which takes management away from those who put up the money and hold the sack.

In his message to Congress, President Roosevelt said that he will not let the people down. But judging from the stock market reports, unemployment figures, car loadings and bank clearings, a lot of the folks are already down.

Many New Deal leaders say the spread between what the producer gets and what the people have to pay for farm products is too great. Probably so, but it isn't any greater than the spread between Democratic platform pledges and New Deal performances.

*****

"To pave the way, to prepare the public mind for government regulation of big business, is one deep motive behind the current anti-trust talk. It will come out in the open in due course—gradually, little by little. It will take some time to evolve from the academic to the applied.—Kiplinger Service.

*****

Assistant Attorney General Jackson says the way to solve future depressions is to have industry produce more, thereby lowering prices. How about the farmers?

*****

In Babylonia, 4,000 years ago, you could buy a house and lot for $1.75. In these days of the New Deal that amount will just about make the down payment on an electric iron.

*****

With the number of schools and colleges increasing in the country every year it's a wonder more people don't learn there is no Santa Claus.

*****

"Well, he's not feeling so well today," comes answer to our telephone inquiry as to a friend's state of health. "He had a recession last night and went back to bed."

*****

Stalin's re-election was sure, of course. In America you can't beat Santa Claus and in Russia you can't beat a firing squad.

Popcorn, American Crop

Popcorn is a peculiarly American crop. In early Spanish writings reference is made to a ritual of the Aztecs in which "one hour before dawn there sallied forth all these maidens, loathed and popped, the grains of which resembled orange blossoms, and looped on their necks thick festoons of the same which basted under the left arm."

Worship Sacred Horse

In Japan a sacred horse, pure white in color, is worshiped. It has one pink eye and the other blue and is always kept in readiness for a departed Shogun. Once a year, during the annual Shinto festival, it leaves its closely-guarded stable and marches through the gayly bedecked streets.

Ancient Chinese Custom

To No was an ancient ceremony performed annually at Peiping, China, at the end of each year for the purpose of expelling the spirits of pestilence of the old year and enthroning the better spirits of the new year.

Women Wear Double Apron

Women of the upper Andes do not wear skirts, but a double apron, fore and aft. It makes for comfortable mule-riding, acting like a divided skirt, with improved ventilation.

Scotland's Inland Lochs

In Scotland the word "loch" can mean either "lake," or an arm of the sea "skin" to the Norwegian "fjord." The inland lochs are Loch Lomond or Loch Ness to little nameless lochs high up in the hills.

A large number of Moslems have lived in China for many generations and are almost indistinguishable from other Chinese; but they still persist in regarding themselves as foreigners there.

Turtles of the Galapagos
Turtles of the Galapagos islands lay white, spherical eggs, which are a little larger than hens' eggs, in the sand or any convenient hole, a dozen or more at a time. If dogs and pigs do not destroy the eggs, buzzards often attack the young tortoises. If these escape destruction, the older animals are generally killed by man for their flesh and for the clear oil obtained from their fat. Those which survive all these perils are apt to live for centuries, barring other accidents, asking nothing else than to pursue their peaceful ways.

"The Bride Wakes Up" is an entirely new and different kind of Cooking School. It has romance, humor, glamour—it will hold your interest every minute you are in the audience.

For the first time at a Cooking School you will be able to see every single one of the important steps in the preparation of a recipe. Mixing, blending, stirring, baking—all the many and varied points essential to successful cookery are shown in close-up on the screen.

And lots of new and interesting recipes are demonstrated in the model kitchens especially built for this picture.

The picture will be entertaining as well as instructive. The various characters in the picture are portrayed by talented actors and actresses—the picture was made in Hollywood.

You will see real-life situations—similar to the ones you encounter every day—actually re-enacted on the screen. You will understand the problems of a bride and see how she adjusts herself to her new life as a wife and home-maker.

There will be daily gifts for some fortunate women, and of course free recipes for every one.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Truth" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 23.

The Golden Text was: "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion and gracious, long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth" (Psalm 86:15).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon are the following from the Bible: "Show me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day" (Psalm 25:1, 4, 5).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Right and wrong, truth and error, will bear strife in the minds of students until victory rests on the side of invincible truth. Honesty is spiritual power. Dishonesty is human weakness, which forfeits divine help" (p. 454).

The usual intense interest was manifest last Sunday morning in the subject, "The Work of the Holy Spirit." This was characterized as, "His World-wide Work" in which He constantly warns men that there is a right they should obey and a wrong they should shun, urging them to dethrone evil and enshrine good; Second, "His Extraordinary Work" in which He compels men to choose between following the best in life or the worst in life. To choose the best is man's part in conversion. To choose the worst is to sin against the Holy Spirit. Third, "His Specifically Christian Work" in which He brings men to see their inability to satisfy their ever enlarging moral ideals without divine help, thus bringing about complete surrender and acknowledgement of the Lordship of the Holy Spirit.

"The Measure of a Man" of the evening service was found to be "His Manhood," or mainly qualities: "His Outlook on Life"; and "His Thoughts." A very enjoyable social period and supper followed the service.

At a gathering of High School students on Tuesday of last week 31 signified desire to join the Young People's department of our Sunday recipe sheets each day will provide added incentive.

Experienced housekeepers will thrill to the adventures of the winsome bride, whose husband begins to boil when he finds that she can't even boil water. But this bride is blessed with resourceful determination, even though the faithful servant in her girlhood home made every effort to spoil her.

What happens after the honeymoon is over? What happens when the bride becomes aware of the critical gaze of some of her husband's old sweethearts, who are not apt to forget heavy biscuits in a hurry?

To unravel the mystery in advance would be to rob this clever tale of its novel approach. However the audience is due to share a series of neighborly food consultations, in which expert home specialists reveal the secrets which govern the perfection of flaky piecrust, fluffy cakes, molded icebox marvels, appetizing salads and correctly roasted meats.

Never has the wizardry of the camera brought a subject more closely and naturally to the watchers.

It will be a real cooking class, just as though the model kitchen were right on the stage, with the exception that the view actually will be more complete for each person in the audience. The guests of the Antiuch News in the back rows will share the same close-ups of the busy mixing bowl which are being seen in the Antiuch Theatre.

When the graduated measuring spoons drop their level portions into the bowl, when the wooden spoon is creaming the shortening, and the dry ingredients are being sifted, each step of that measuring, blending and mixing process will be pictured faithfully through a series of fascinating close-ups.

This will be no direct-from-the-oven sample of speed or trick photography, but a thorough, real-life camera study of scientific methods, designed to be helpful, even while the story entertains.

So realistic is the atmosphere of the modern kitchens, with their gleaming, convenient equipment and cheery informality, that the audience really feels part of the scene. Soon the deft worker seems to be talking directly to each person in the theatre, rather than to the puzzled bride.

Every listener will find a harvest of practical ideas among the suggestions for more efficient homemaking, covering such daily problems as laundry, refrigeration, up-to-date entertaining, beauty secrets, news of modernized home equipment and tips on making these mechanical servants yield the highest degree of usefulness.

Not only will the picture be free, but there will be a host of daily gifts and surprises arranged by the News and participating firms, who are joining forces to make this unusual entertainment available to the community.

Reserve the dates, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, February 22, 23 and 24, on your calendar now and plan to join your neighbors in The Antiuch Theatre.

When Nature goes on a Rampage

The telephone company is always prepared for emergencies. No one knows when Nature will crash down on our plant. It did this in January a year ago when a sleet storm, the worst in years, covered west central Illinois. In spite of the magnitude of the damage, the work of restoring telephone service proceeded swiftly and smoothly because the Illinois Bell Telephone Company has not only its own personnel and resources to call upon, but the personnel and resources of the entire Bell System. This working together of all units of a universal telephone system makes possible the dependable telephone service you know today.

Nubby Wools a Midseason Choice

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

NEW clothes are a wonderful tonic. For minds that go jaded in mid-winter after the holiday excitement dies down, try the reaction of a smart new frock or coat or, better still, an entire ensemble. To start right, browse about in mid-season collections, eye-alert for the stunning outfits that are being made of intriguing wools, for woolen weaves are gaining favor right along.

Lovely featherweight wools, you'll find, that are caressingly soft-textured against the skin and have just enough warmth to be welcome at this time of year. These delightful winter dress wools are equally good choices whether you spend the mid-season months in the cold weather or warm weather sections. The slim moulded silhouettes tailored of sheer wool fabric slide under fur coats suavely and they are just as attractive with little fur boleros or jackets, lightweight coats that may be furled or unfurled, or worn with no coats at all under sunny skies.

Speaking of fur boleros, they give you your cue as to what's about the smartest item on the mid-season style program. A dashing bolero of black skunk gleams richly against the dull surfaced mossy texture of the smart frock shown to the right in the picture. The wool weave is the closely woven nubby kind that is so sought for this season. The dress is trimly tailored with twisted cord detail at the neckline, down the front and at the edges of the self-fabric belt.

We could go on and on telling about the voguish little fur boleros that are playing so important a role at present but we started out with the theme in mind of intriguing wools. However, we do want to say a word about the new and jaunty bolero tris that include a perky little hat, a diminutive barrel muff to match the jacket. The sporty types are of various furs, the youthful spotted pelts especially outstanding. For the dressier types it's ermine. They're making them too, of lamb's wool to wear skiing and skating. The bolero with its hat and its muff made of cloth to match the dress it tops, is a high-style gesture if embroidered a la peasant fashion in bright hued yarns or give it the glittering note if you will. Jet beads or sequins on black wool are tres chic.

You'll like the new nubby wools that are so much in evidence just now. They make up smartly in coats, black with Persian lamb being a leader. The sheer dress nubby wools are the "last word" for wear during the temperamental mid-months that lead to spring. A fine woven nubby woolen in soft blue makes the mid-season costume or outfit for resort wear as pictured to the left. The knee-length coat is luxuriously collared in natural blue fox. Silver lame applique at the front closing and pockets achieve a gleaming accent against the dull richness of the fabric.

As to wools in general, the vogue for black is reflected in the stunning black frocks in many types of woolen, all of which have in common the knack of fine wool for taking a sooty black aspect that makes a perfect background for the gleaming decorative metal touches and snow-white accents that are used on this year's finest frocks. Very lovely are the alpaca-and-wool mixture fabrics that are lightweight and close woven, therefore tailor beautifully. In high favor also are the very soft rabbit wools that drape perfectly, lending them selves to dressmaker styling. Sheer worsted crepes and novelty sheer worsteds with small soft patterns are equally lovely in the popular black or in rich jewel tones. Fine wool jerseys are also available and are used for shirred and draped afternoon frocks as well as school and sportswear. Fine wool broadcloths are the wanted medium for sleek dinner suits with accents of glittering sequins, metal, embroidery or fur as a sophisticated trimming detail.

Think Twice Before Accusing Child of Lying

Anxiously, mother dressed a gash over Fred's eye before she saw the long tear in his coat sleeve. The boy's wound had upset her, but the damage to his coat made her furious. It was less than six weeks old. It was the only coat he had. "Wait until your father hears that you have been fighting again."

When cross-examined by father, Fred confessed, "I had to fight a fellow. He hit me with a potato." It was the same story he had told mother, and father already was familiar with it. "A likely story," he remarked skeptically. "Now, tell me what really happened." Bewildered, the boy looked stupid. His lips parted, his eyes popped. He had told the truth and his father did not believe him. What was he supposed to do now? Lie?

"I'm surprised you haven't also told me where the fellow got the potato," father continued sarcastically, "and whether it was an Idaho or sweet potato. Stop stalling and let me have the truth."

The boy gulped. He did not know how to cope with sarcasm. It humiliated him. Resentful now, he was able to tell a neat alibi without batting an eye. It was like taking revenge in a way, and he relished it. An unerring instinct dictated plausible falsehoods. No potato figured in the story this time. He was the aggressor now and his coat was torn through his own carelessness.

"That's more like it. I'm glad you told the truth," father exclaimed. "It's too bad about the coat. But I'll advance the money for the tailor to mend it and you can pay it back to me in weekly installments out of your allowance."

An excellent proposition, but of doubtful value now.

A wise parent thinks twice before accusing a child of lying. He would rather neglect a deliberate lie than risk destroying a child's confidence and trust in him, and in himself, through accusing him wrongfully. An incredible story may after all be true, so don't jump to conclusions in haste or in anger. It does not pay.

Questions and Answers

Q. Can paint be applied over enamel?

A. It is assumed that the enamel referred to is enamel paint and not the vitreous enamel used on refrigerators and the like. If the gloss is thoroughly removed with sandpaper or steel wool, it may be possible to get a fairly satisfactory result. It is also advisable to apply an enamel undercoat to the surface after it has been thoroughly sandpapered and before applying paint. If the hard surface of the enamel is not completely removed, it will cause alligatoring.

Q. Can yellowish stains be removed from tile?

GLAMOUR'S THE WORD

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Headresses such as this hold sway at fashionable opening nights. Earrings are returning to favor to balance the upswing of hair. Rapturous veils halo face and hair with exotic charm. Nail polish in flower shades matches the flowers in the hair or flowered jewels that are worn, heralding the return of exquisite daintiness for feminine hands. Glamour and allure are fashion requisites this year and it is meticulous care as to flattering details that counts in reaching the goal.

GAY KNIT GLOVES CREATE SENSATION

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

If there is one thing more than another that will cause a somber costume to change its tactics of being conservative it's a pair of the new handmade Viennese gloves worn with it. You could pile on any number of gewgaws and they would not play up the dramatics like these spectacular white knit gloves do. You see it is the hand embroidery done in a riot of color that causes passers-by to turn a startled eye. They are the height of fashion, these "comfy," ornate gloves knit of soft white yarn and embroidered in the true gay peasant spirit.

Little Hoods of Velvet Are Coming Into Fashion

The peasant print bandanas and kerchiefs, which college girls and resorters are wearing tied under the chin, have a rival. It's the new little hoods of velvet which are fashioned quite like baby bonnets. They are cueing as can be and young girls are wearing little velvet ones back and forth to their parties. For the beach these wee hoods are in gay printed stripes.

NOVEL EXPERIMENT
IN CATTLE RAISINGCross Bison and Cows to Develop Hardier Stock.

McIntosh, S. D.—A novel experiment in cattle raising is taking place in the southern part of Corson county, where several head of buffalo have been introduced into cattle herds in hope of developing a larger, sturdier type of beef animal.

Ranchers from the Grand river area and south report that buffalo take charge of their herds of domesticated cattle, acting as caretakers, leading the cattle to water and back to feeding grounds.

During recent severe winters, ranchers have observed that buffalo herd-leaders accurately gauged approaching storms.

When buffalo sought shelter, a severe storm could be anticipated, but if they remained outside, clear weather invariably was probable, they explained.

Buffalo members of these herds already have introduced new feeding habits to their bovine associates, ranchers say.

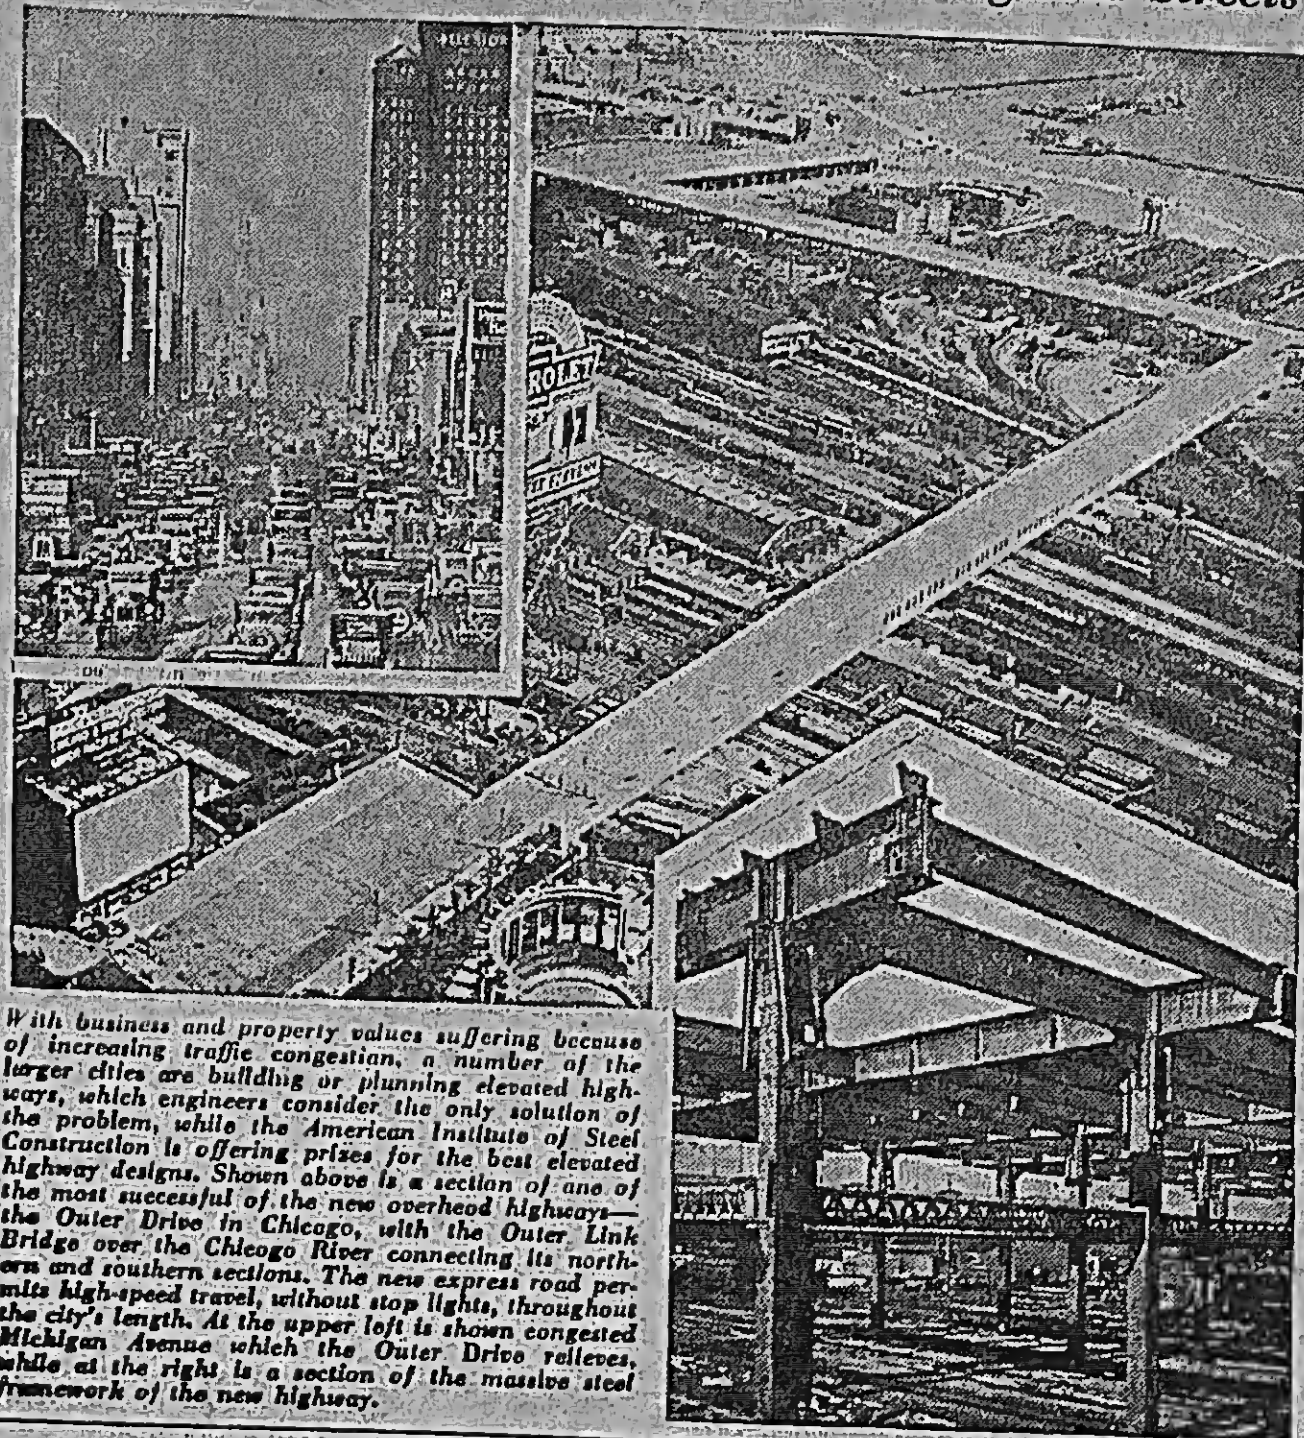

During periods of deep snow, the buffalo buries its head in snowbanks searching for roots of grass. Later, cattle have developed similar habits in foraging for buck brush.

Raised as calves, the buffalo have been readily adopted into livestock herds.

Offspring of buffalo and cattle are wider through the shoulders than domestic cattle. It is hoped if they can be raised successfully that ranchers will benefit from a new type of animal able to endure severe heat or cold.

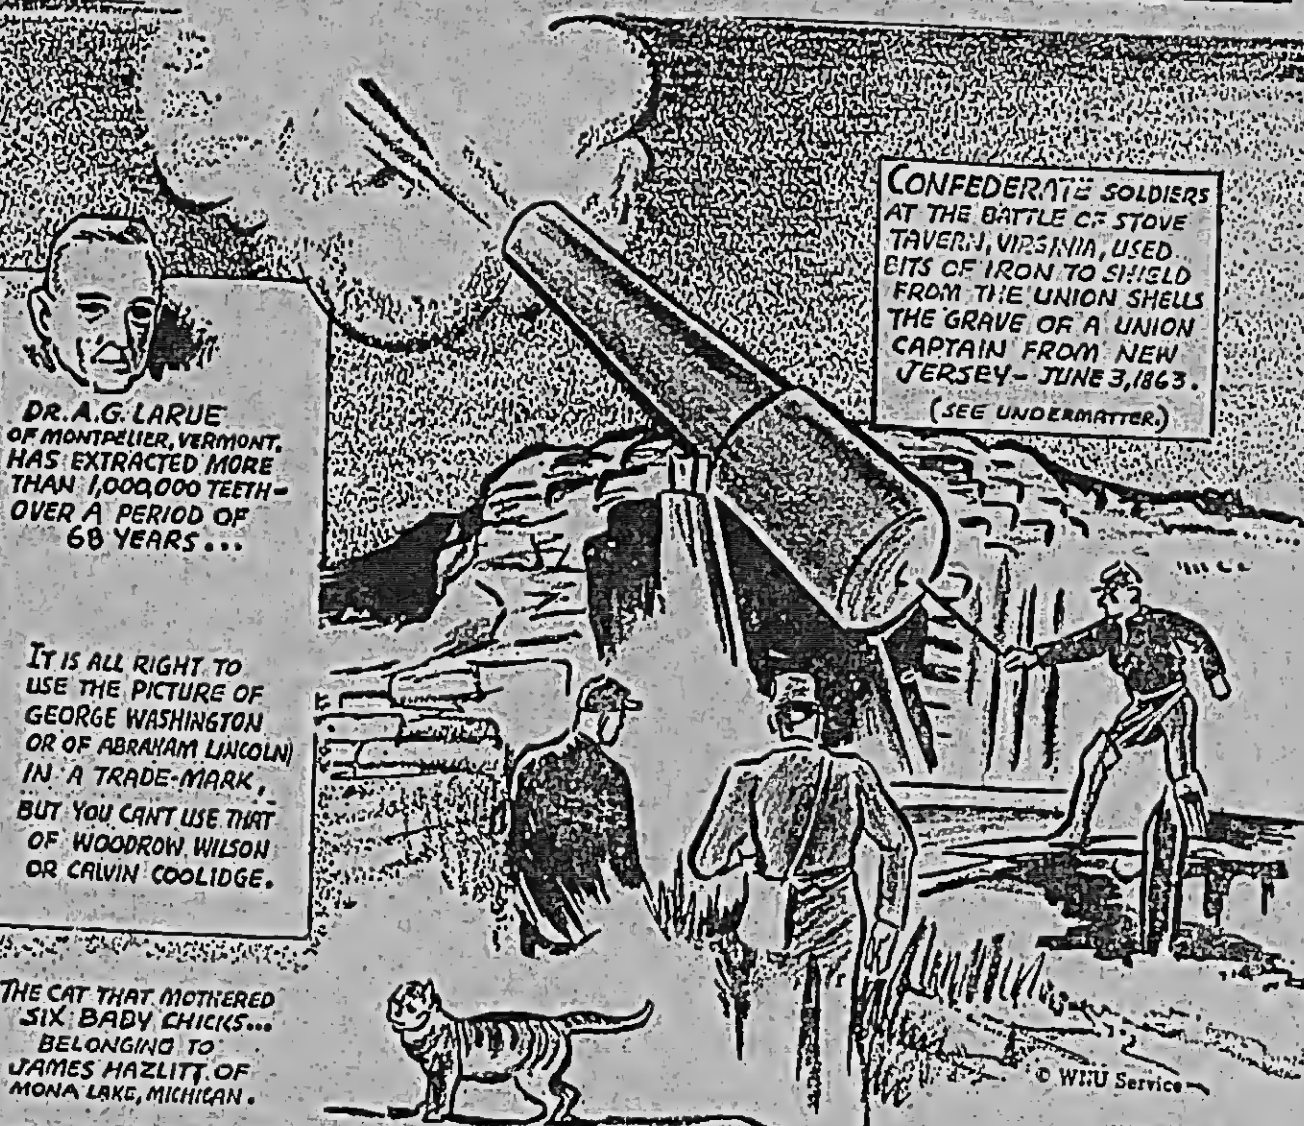

They point to the fact that this section of South Dakota once was the natural habitat for countless herds of buffalo that survived the worst winter known to pioneers, although man provided no food or shelter.

Elevated Highways Lift Traffic from Congested Streets

With business and property values suffering because of increasing traffic congestion, a number of the larger cities are building or planning elevated highways, which engineers consider the only solution of the problem, while the American Institute of Steel Construction is offering prizes for the best elevated highway designs. Shown above is a section of one of the most successful of the new overhead highways—the Outer Drive in Chicago, with the Outer Link Bridge over the Chicago River connecting its northern and southern sections. The new express road permits high-speed travel, without stop lights, throughout the city's length. At the upper left is shown congested Michigan Avenue which the Outer Drive replaces while at the right is a section of the massive steel framework of the new highway.

Tunnels Under St. Paul

Rival Roman Catacombs

St. Paul.—Subterranean passages surpassing those of the catacombs of Rome lie beneath the streets of St. Paul, according to George M. Shepard, city engineer.

The honeycomb of tunnels underlying the downtown district is made possible by an unusual geologic formation, Shepard said.

The tunnels were constructed for use by utilities and sewer facilities. About one-half of the loop district is underlaid by a layer of limestone 8 to 12 feet thick, covered only by 2 feet of earth. Directly beneath this limestone is the deep St. Peter sandstone formation, which is easily tunneled and remains for long periods without lining except in sewers and heat mains.

The tunnels, Shepard said, lie from 20 to 75 feet beneath the surface of the street. In many cases they are communicating.

The topmost layer of tunnels—about 20 feet beneath the surface—is used by the St. Paul City Railway company. Deeper tunnel systems of them all is that of the large sanitary sewer interceptor, approximately 75 feet down.

Most of the utility tunnels are from 2.5 to 3.5 feet wide, and arch to 6 or 7 feet in height.

First Job of Radio Car

Is Finding Stray Horse

Revere, Mass.—The first assignment for the new radio cars of the Revere police department was to recover a stray horse.

Cruising on a test run, Patrolmen Larry Duggan and Herbert Zunino sighted a work horse browsing in a field. Securing the animal, they took to the ether waves to inform headquarters of their find and to request instructions.

Headquarters, not yet versed in the niceties of solving police problems over the air, went into a huddle. After a number of "stand bys" and hurried telephone calls, an owner was located for the wandering beast. The radio car returned to headquarters with its first experience, and minus a coil of rope used to tether the horse.

Farmers Run a Railroad
Saved From Scrap Heap

Arcade, N. Y.—A group of farmers in New York state have gone into the railroad business.

They operate the Arcade & Attica railroad, one of the most unusual in the United States. One train is run daily between Arcade and Attica, a 26-mile stretch.

The railroad is 100 years old, but when private management threatened to abandon it, the farmers along the line pooled their resources and purchased the entire system and equipment.

Cold Weather Hints
For Motorists

DO not add water to the battery in freezing weather unless you run the engine for at least a half hour to mix the electrolyte. Otherwise the water may freeze and crack the battery case. Even if you are lucky enough to escape a cracked case, the result is likely to be serious injury to the battery.

Spark plugs should be checked and cleaned at least twice each winter. Even though the fuel system is working perfectly, a hot spark is needed to fire it in cold weather. A weak plug, or one not working properly for any reason, may cause you to waste as much as one gallon of gasoline out of every ten that you buy.

A light, even film of castor oil on the windshield will keep it free of ice during winter storms. A handy device for applying the oil can be made by forcing a tight roll of flannel into a small screw-cap glass jar. Saturate the flannel with the oil and keep the cap screwed on when not in use.

Prison Custom Not New

"Chumming-up" may look like a modern phrase, but 100 years ago it was common in English prisons. Newly-arrived prisoners were beaten by their fellow-inmates with sticks and staves until they chummed-up, or donated a certain sum of money to their fellows.

Plant Food Once Chief Diet
Plants played an important part in the lives of the early people of the territory now comprised in Zion National park, Utah. Game animals were killed for meat, but scientific evidence indicates plant food was the chief diet of the prehistoric inhabitants.

Ancestor of the Chihuahua
It is believed that the Techichi, a breed of dog much liked by the Toltecs of Mexico centuries ago, is one of the ancestors of the Chihuahua. Legend and history are rich in stories of the ancestors of the modern Chihuahua. It is believed to have been a popular pet as well as a religious symbol among the Toltecs and Aztecs.

Seal Idea an Old One
The use of a seal of sticker to raise funds for charitable purposes is not new. During the Civil war sanitary fairs were held in many cities to arouse public interest in the work of the medical corps, and private post offices were established at the fairs, where private stamps were sold. These had no postage value except at the fair office.

PICKING OFF THE SPARES—by SIXTA

Here's how Bill Rogan of Minneapolis scored an "Impossible" 330 in a league game: Rogan scored twelve consecutive strikes for a perfect 300 score. But his team was tied with the opposing team. Under A. B. C. rules, ties are played off with an extra frame. Rogan then scored three more strikes in a row. And the rules provide that the scores of tie-breaking frames are added to the original score. Therefore, Rogan's official score for the total of eleven frames was—an "Impossible" 330.

London Has Ghost Bells

London's ghost church bells have been augmented. Tradition has it that on certain occasions the bells of the old church of St. Andrew-by-the-Wardrobe ring without human aid. To these have been added three of the chimes of the village of Avenbury, which also have a reputation of going on their own. Gabriel Andrews, the largest of the three bells, is reported to have tolled of its own accord when two vicars of Avenbury died. No one pulled the rope, declare the parishioners, yet the entire village heard the chime.

Cougar Destroys Sheep

Unpopular, indeed, is the cougar—he likes too many sheep and deer suppers, notes a writer in the Washington Post. Cougars kill ruthlessly, but rarely attack men. They climb a tree when cornered, can be shot down easily. An animal of many names, the cougar is also called the mountain lion, wild cat, and, wrongly, panther, "painter" and "catamount." The correct name is "puma," the Peruvian natives' name.

"Barbary Apes"

Tallies, "Barbary apes" live entirely on the ground. But that doesn't mean they are not good climbers. They're among the best, scampering surefootedly up and down rocks, never singly but always in droves. Though called apes, they are really monkeys of the type that roams North Africa.

Have Pet Fireflies

Cubans find enjoyment in pet fireflies. Lightning bugs there are so large and bright that they are sometimes imprisoned in wicker cages and used to illuminate cabins in rural districts. During the day Cuban women and children often play with the insects, just as they would with other pets. Bathed and fed regularly, these fireflies live for several months.

Post-Impressionism

Post-Impressionism is a movement in art in rebellion against certain previous forms of expression, such as realism and Impressionism, the aim being to express feeling with the aid of abstract form and color, disregarding natural appearances. Cezanne was the leading spirit, others being Gauguin, Matisse and Van Gogh.

Prevent Altitude Sickness

Equadorian natives beat the terrible form of altitude sickness that abounds there by chewing cacao leaves. The small amount of cocaine so obtained steadies the mind and stomach.

School For Aliens Is Newest WPA Project

Schools for aliens are to be started in Antioch, Lake Villa and Round Lake within the next 30 days, according to William Morse of Lake Villa, who announced this week that he had been appointed chief instructor under the WPA administration.

Morse will have an assistant to be named from one of the three towns before the start of the schools about February 15. The classes are for aliens of the various townships conducting the schools, and there must be 10 or more applications from those seeking citizenship, Morse said.

Applications for entry into the school may be made by mail in any language and should be addressed to Box 127, Lake Villa, Illinois.

Under the present plan two evening classes each week will be conducted at the places named.

50 Aliens Here

Antioch township has about 50 unnaturalized residents and a small number of these are receiving relief, according to Supervisor Barney Naber, who has been asked to co-operate with Morse in conducting the schools. Those attending who can not speak English will be taught the language and there will be a course in civics and the obligations of citizenship, in preparation for the first examination. Students will be prepared for application for their first or second citizenship papers.

In the United States, according to the latest federal census, available, there are about three and a half million aliens. In 1935 there were 131,378 petitions filed, and of this number 118,945 applicants were accepted as citizens. Citizenship is granted by the courts to applicants who are eligible and who can qualify.

6,000 Receive Instruction

While the WPA has been dropping non-citizens from its payrolls, nevertheless it is maintaining its classes in citizenship to help unnaturalized foreign born persons to become citizens. At the present time there are nearly six thousand unnaturalized foreign born persons receiving instruction in the WPA citizenship classes throughout the state. Out of 1,038 "graduates" of these classes who recently took examinations for citizenship only 70 failed to pass. The 97 can, of course, return for more instruction and try their fortune another time.

These statistics provide rapid Grant basketball enthusiasts with a resume of all contests played during the past week. Ela continued its unblemished record by whipping Palatine, 22-20, in a thrilling overtime tilt Friday evening.

Grant's cagers will play host to Warren's Blue Devils this Friday evening. The Bulldogs were whipped in their last engagement with the lads from Gurnee and it is expected that a real battle will ensue. The combined efforts of the Mielke-Howard-Burleigh forward line will probably tip the mediocre Blue Devils' outfit, especially in view of Mielke's recent spectacular performances.

First Annual Is Under Way

Preparations for the publication of the high school annual are well under way. The photographs recently taken by Mr. Herman Klein of the North Shore studios have arrived and are excellent. The annual cause has been aided greatly by Mr. George Fitzner of Long Lake who graciously offered to contribute twenty-five cuts for the edition.

At this time the Commercial Club will acknowledge all merchants and business associations who have purchased advertising space in the annual.

Edward Burleigh is being heralded as a hero. He has been accorded this honor because of his rescue efforts last Sunday afternoon on Pistakee Bay where two youths were drowned.

A complete schedule follows on the activities of the Grant high school debate teams during the next two months. Coach J. Christ is negotiating for additional meets besides the ones scheduled to date.

Classes for Adults

The special class recently opened for adults in English and public speaking is now meeting regularly on Friday evening. Although attendance has not been large enough to be considered satisfactory, interest in the work is keen. All adults are urged to bring in their problems where they will be treated individually. Regardless of previous experience and training, the course offers something new and beneficial to everyone. The sessions are very informal and all will participate in discussions.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 2, with Mrs. Will at Fish at her home and you are very welcome. Committee No. 5 of the Aid Society, consisting of Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. Fish, Mrs. Ballenger and Mrs. C. Hamlin, will sponsor a public card and bunco party at the Village hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 3. There will be tables for bridge, 500 and bunco, and good prizes and refreshments.

Mrs. Fred Hamlin is still confined to her home by an attack of quinsy and is beginning to improve.

Mrs. Fred Bartlett's mother, Mrs. Schramm, returned last week from a visit with her daughters in Waukegan.

Mrs. Lawrence Thayer who was ill at the home of Mrs. Louisa Thayer last week, was able to return to Highland Park on Monday. Last Thursday evening, her brother, George Murrie and wife of Gurnee, also her sister, Miss Alice Murrie, visited her.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gallagher of Barrington visited Mrs. Gallagher's mother, Mrs. Daube, last Wednesday.

The fire department was rushed to the Sam Armstrong home last Monday noon but found that their services were not needed.

The amateur entertainment at the school-house last Wednesday evening which was sponsored by the church board in an effort to encourage local talent, was well attended and a well balanced program was presented by the amateurs. Prizes were awarded in grade school class to Georgia Lee Reidel, of Sand Lake, who sang, to Edward Ruschewski, who also sang, and to Elaine Jahinke who gave a tap dance. In high school group, Sidney Hughes, saxophone soloist, Dorothy Herrick, tap dancer, and Billie Herrick, reader, were awarded prizes. In the adult division, Lillian Atwell, soloist, won a prize. Other contestants were Jack Swan of Libertyville, Arthur Olson of Round Lake, also Ellen Nader and Gladys Keisler of Lake Villa in musical numbers. A one-act play in which Mrs. Cable, Mrs. Wagner, Dorothy Meyer, William Nelson and Homer LaPlant took part, concluded the program. A social hour with refreshments followed, and it is hoped to be able to present another such program.

The heavy rains of Sunday night and Monday caused several basements in the village to be flooded, but by Tuesday evening, the trouble was all cleared up.

The water tower is nearly all up, but weather conditions have prevented its completion.
